

Stéphanie Nguyen is a professor at the Sorbonne University Faculty of Medicine and a hematologist at the Pitié Salpêtrière Hospital in Paris where she directs the transplantation, cell therapy and Jacie quality program. Her area of expertise is haploidentical transplants and natural killer cells. She is the current chair of the scientific council of the sfgm-tc.